‘Carousel’

Written by Rodger’s and Hammerstein

For Carousel we are offering something a little different!!
Coach pick up, time to spend in Chichester, evening performance and return coach.

Carousel forms part of the Chichester Festival Theatre’s Summer programme and so for the first time we are venturing outside of London for our theatre. We are hoping for some lovely Summer weather as we have the opportunity to picnic and wander into Chichester town centre if we so please. There is a restaurant and café available at the theatre or various restaurants and cafes in the town which is only 15mins walk away. We really are looking forward to the refreshing change of scene that Chichester will offer us and we hope that you will be there too.

Time Magazine hailed Carousel as the best musical of its century. Ahead of its time in style and content when it premiered in 1945, Rodgers and Hammerstein's creation is now considered their masterpiece, and this most musical of dramas was their personal favourite.

Fresh, original and beautiful, this is the story of naïve mill-worker Julie Jordan's doomed love for swaggering free spirit Billy Bigelow. From the magical evocation of the carousel in the overture to the anthemic You'll Never Walk Alone, through If I Loved You and June Is Bustin' Out All Over, the power and humanity of the story are matched by an extraordinary score. Timeless to this day, Carousel is the creation of master musical makers at the height of their powers.
